

Shine the spotlight on your winning IT department!

The August 1st issue of CIO magazine showcases the CIO 100 winning companies and their innovative projects. This issue will also be distributed at the CIO 100 Symposium & Awards Ceremony, where many winners—perhaps even your own—will be in attendance.

Take this opportunity to congratulate your team, or your customers, and show them publicly how much they are valued by your organization. It will go a long way towards retaining good employees and attracting new talent interested in working for a company that values innovation, and good people.

It's simple, choose from one of the four designs on the left, and we will work with you to create your ad.
